Teacher Assistant Training

OVERVIEW:

Through class training and classroom observations, participants in this course will be shown the necessary information/skills needed to: demonstrate a level of professionalism in communication and collaboration among members of the school community, including colleagues, families and related agencies; support teachers by participating in instructional opportunities; support a learning environment that encourages appropriate standards of behavior, positive social interaction, active engagement in learning and self-motivation; exhibit knowledge of health, safety and emergency procedures of the learning environment (RIDE Standards for Teacher Assistants).

Completion of the course and assessment provides students with a certification that is recognized by all school districts in Rhode Island.

REQUIREMENTS:

Prior to enrolling in this course, students must provide a copy of a High School Diploma or GED. In addition, a BCI check will be conducted for all students.

EVALUATION:

There will be a final exam at the end of the course. In addition, the course will schedule up to five skills review classes for students who would like additional training prior to taking the ParaPro Assessment.

All Things Google

Chariho Adult Education wants to offer courses that assist community members in understanding all aspects of the technology students utilize in classrooms.

This year, with the increased use of Chromebook laptops, we are proud to offer courses that focus on the basic principles. Here is a list of courses that will be offered during the Spring Semester:

- Introduction to Google Classroom
- Using/Navigating Google Chrome
- Creating Google Docs, Slides, Sheets, or Sites in Google Drive

We are currently still in the process of developing the actual course offerings, but our goal is to offer a variety of course options starting March 2017. If there is a specific course you'd like to see offered, please email Chariho Adult Education with any/all ideas.

Check the website for updates.

GED Preparation

Chariho Adult Education's staff believes that it is never too late to learn, to grow, and to improve the quality of one's life.

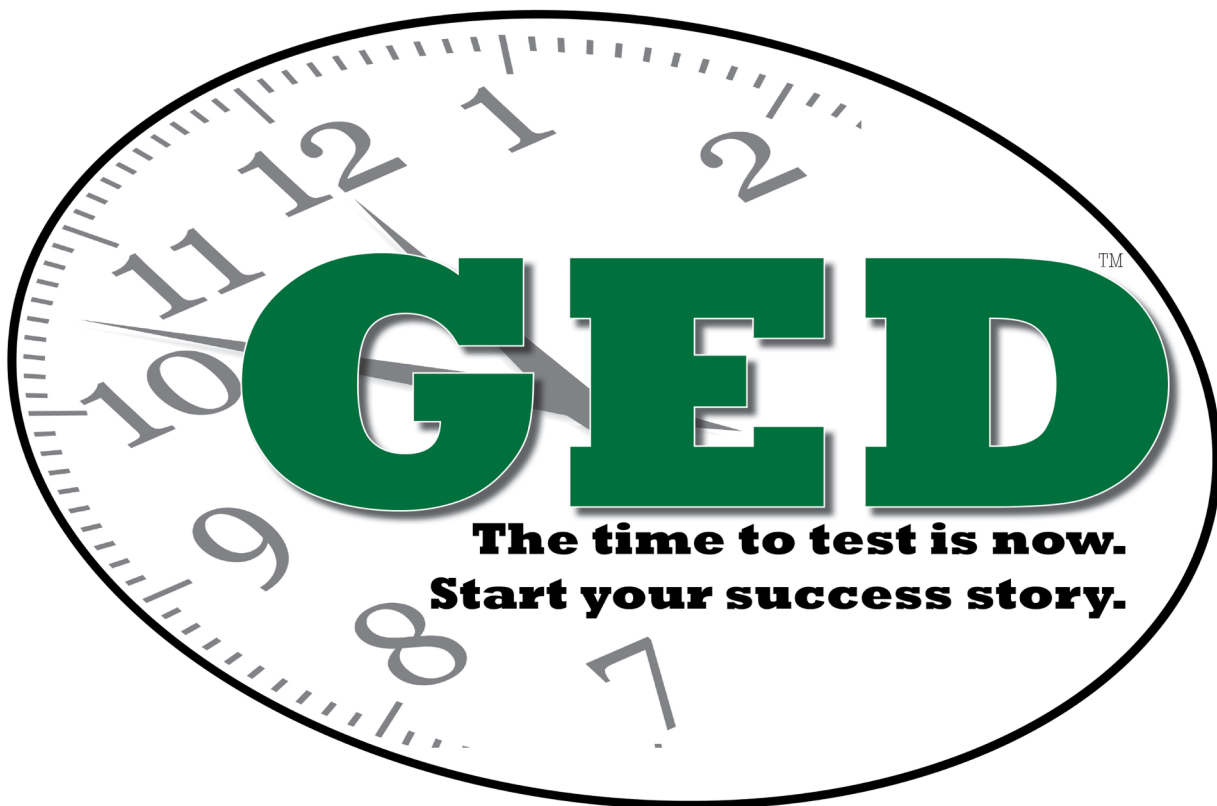

The GED (Graduation Equivalency Diploma) is an assessment of skills and knowledge comparable to those of a high school graduate. It is not to be considered a substitute for completing high school and earning a diploma. It is an alternative for those who, for a variety of reasons, are unable to finish high school. During this course, students can feel comfortable going at their own pace and the course instructors will be a helpful guide along the way.

HVAC Apprenticeship Program

Are you interested in a career field that is growing AND recession proof?
Do you like to work with your hands?

If you answered yes to either of these questions, you want to join Chariho Adult Education's HVAC Apprenticeship Program. You will be working on your apprenticeship schooling with us as we use the State approved NCCER Curriculum.

The State of Rhode Island Department of Labor requires two years of schooling and two years of on the job training for a Class II license. This license will allow you to do residential and light commercial work.

The average person in the trade is 58 years of age, which means there will be opportunities to secure gainful employment in this field.

Apprentices, are you already taking classes? This course will assist in satisfying State requirements.

Instructor: Steve Guido
